

AT 192

Anchoring point for steep roofs

EN 795/A

Connecting lanyard AT 192 is a component of personal fall protection equipment. The lanyard should be used as a permanent anchor device type A, enabling connection of connecting and absorbing device to a structural anchor point. Connecting lanyard is formed by a stainless steel cable, 5mm dia. Device length from 0.35 to 5.0m. Fitted with a galvanized steel handle.

SPECIAL FEATURES

Protection for 1 person

PARAMETERS

Material	stainless steel, steel	Max. number of users	1
Finishing	galvanization
Static strength	12 kN
Fixing hole diameter Ø	13 mm		